Vivendi's Shareholders Meeting approves the spin-off project by more than 97.5%

Canal+, Havas and Louis Hachette Group to be listed on December 16

The Combined General Shareholders Meeting of Vivendi, held today under the chairmanship of Yannick Bolloré, approved by more than 97.5% of the votes the separation from Vivendi of Canal+, Havas and Louis Hachette Group (the company bringing together the 66.53% investment in Lagardère and 100% of Prisma Media). The first trading day for the shares of these three companies will therefore take place, as announced, on December 16, 2024, respectively on the London Stock Exchange, Euronext Amsterdam and Euronext Growth Paris.

With a quorum of 71.96% of shareholders present or represented, the two resolutions requiring approval by a two-thirds majority of votes, namely those regarding partial asset contributions subject to the French legal regime applicable to partial demergers (apport partiel d'actifs soumis au régime des scissions), have been overwhelmingly adopted with 97.57% of the votes for the Canal+ partial demerger and with 97.58% for the Louis Hachette Group partial demerger. The resolution regarding the distribution in kind of Havas NV shares to the Vivendi shareholders, requiring the approval of a simple majority of votes, was adopted with 97.61% of the votes.

Yannick Bolloré said: "We are delighted with the very high adoption rate of our spin-off project. This undisputable result confirms the strong support of our shareholders for this transformative transaction."

The Supervisory Board would like to warmly thank Arnaud de Puyfontaine and the whole Management Board, all the teams involved in this project, our different advisors and our shareholders for their trust. We are convinced that this new chapter for Canal+, Havas and Louis Hachette Group will be very promising and create value for all stakeholders."

December 13, 2024 (included) is the last day for investors wishing to be allocated shares as part of this spin-off to acquire Vivendi shares. The first listing of the shares of the three companies will take place on December 16, 2024, at 9 am (Paris time). The settlement-delivery of the Canal+, Havas NV and Louis Hachette Group shares to the shareholders of Vivendi entitled to receive them will take place on December 18, 2024.

January 15, 2025, is the deadline for the payment of social levies (prélèvements sociaux) and/or non-final withholding tax (prélèvement non libératoire) or withholding tax (retenue à la source).

Details of the votes and the video recording of the Shareholders' Meeting will be available on the website: <https://www.vivendi.com/en/shareholders-investors/shareholders-meeting/>.

Important disclaimers

Shareholders are invited to refer to the prospectuses relating to the admission of Canal+ SA shares to trading on the London Stock Exchange and of Havas NV shares to trading on Euronext Amsterdam (as supplemented, as the case may be), as well as the information document relating to the admission of Louis Hachette Group shares to trading on Euronext Growth, in order to fully understand the potential risks and benefits associated with holding shares in these three companies. These documents are available to investors free of charge on the respective websites of Canal+, Havas and Louis Hachette Group. Shareholders are reminded that the approval of a prospectus or information document by a competent authority should not be understood as an endorsement of the company's shares to be admitted to trading on the market in question. Shareholders are also invited to refer to Vivendi SE's voluntary information document in order to fully understand the potential risks and benefits associated with holding Vivendi shares after the completion of the spin-off of the group. In particular, shareholders are strongly advised to read the sections of these prospectuses and information documents describing the risk factors relating to the issuer and to the shares for which admission to trading may be sought. They are also advised to read the descriptions of shareholders' rights in these documents, so that they can assess the rights they will have as shareholders of Havas N.V., a Dutch company whose shares will be admitted to trading on a Dutch regulated market (Euronext Amsterdam), of Canal+, a French company whose shares will be admitted to trading on a non-EU market (the London Stock Exchange) and of Louis Hachette Group, a French company whose shares will be admitted to trading on Euronext Growth.
